Boy's Death To be Marked By Memorial

Teaching Safety to Youngsters Given as Purpose

Craig Miller Safety Fund was started today as a memorial to the six-year-old youth who was fatally injured yesterday when he ran into a car while crossing Sunny Dunes Road.

In announcing the memorial, the boy's parents, the Don Millers, asked that flowers not be sent but that contributions to the fund be made instead. Donations may be made at the Bank of America.

Definite purpose of the fund has not been established, but it will be used to promote safety and teaching of safety to children.

Craig Miller died at Desert Hospital about noon yesterday, four hours after he suffered critical injuries when, while crossing the street to where he was accustomed to wait for his school bus, he struck the rear side of a car being driven by Mrs. Mamie E. Reddick, 690 Calle Fierro.

The school bus was not at the scene, nor had it turned into the street at the time of the accident.

The driver of the car was not cited by police. Investigation is continuing, with a coroner's inquest set for 2 p.m. today.

This was the first fatal accident involving a child en route to or from school in the history of the Palm Springs Unified District.

Funeral services for the boy will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the Palm Springs Community Church, with Rev. Dr. James Blackstone Jr., officiating. Interment will be in Palm Springs cemetery, with Wiefels and Son Mortuary in charge.

Council Plans Change in Sewer Fee Ordinance

An amendment to the sewer connection fee ordinance was introduced at the city council meeting Tuesday, and will change the manner in which charges are made on sewer connections.

Under the amended code, charges will be made on the load producing potentials of plumbing fixtures as determined by fixture unit equivalents as set forth in the city plumbing code. The plumbing inspector will be responsible for collection of all connection charges.

The amended code will provide that fees on new construction be $2 per fixture unit from 1 to 100; $1 per fixture unit from 101 to 200; and 50 cents per fixture unit over 200, provided that no charge will be less than $50.

On remodeling and additions the fee is set at $1 per fixture unit. On premises not subject to ad valorem taxes (Indian Land) of the city, fees have been set to three times the rates provided.

The ordinance will become law within 30 days after its passage by the City Council.

8-5:30 Building Noise Law in Effect Here Oct. 1

Villagers and visitors can relax a few extra minutes, in the mornings, and enjoy the solitude earlier during the evening hours, starting Oct. 1, City Building Inspector Jack Sanders reported today.

Effective on that date, no permits will be granted for construction starting earlier than 8 a.m., nor later than 5:30 p.m.

During the summer months, Sanders' office granted special permits for earlier and later hours, provided no resident of the area affected complained about the noise.

Palm Springs High School Students Make Test Run on Wearing Shorts, Are Sent Home for Longer Garb

A dozen shorts-clad students arrived at the Palm Springs High School yesterday morning, and were immediately sent home to change into long pants.

Though the school has a regulation forbidding the wearing of shorts by girls, it is understood that no such regulation has been adopted concerning boys.

The boys, wearing Bermuda shorts and knee-length socks, were led by Roger Williams, president of the student body. The group's contention was that the wearing of shorts to school was a prerogative of senior boys. The matter was discussed in a session of the executive committee of the Student Body Council last night, and that body decided to poll the students of the school to determine whether the shorts are wanted by the students. Their recommendation will be presented through the normal channels for official action.

Henry Greeley, principal of the high school said that wearing of shorts was too distracting to the other students, and that no permission had been given the boys to dress in this manner.

Dr. Wallace R. Muelder said that the issue is completely an individual school problem, and would not be considered by the administration until it was presented to them by the principal or student body.

The regulation governing the clothes girls wear was adopted by the girls in the student body and contained in the high school handbook at their request. Action taken in regard to the boys dress will be handled in the same manner.

C. of C. Enters Fight Against Steer Fertilizer

Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce today joined the fight against the use of steer fertilizers. They officially went on record this morning opposing the use of steer fertilizer or any other odiferous fertilizer in the growing of lawns in the Village.

Action was taken by unanimous vote, and all C of C members will be asked to cooperate.

The City of Palm Springs earlier this week announced that it was using non-odiferous fertilizers on all city lawns. City council also is investigating the possibility of outlawing by ordinance the use of steer fertilizer in the city.

In other action by the Chamber today, a committee composed of Earl Hough, chairman, George Beebe, Jr., Harry Paisley and Jimmy Cooper was named to plan a general membership meeting early in October. A general meeting outside of the annual meeting has not been held for more than a year.

Arab Allies Rally To Jordan in Israeli Attacks

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector — Jordan's Arab allies pledged the support to King Hussein today in Jordan's dispute with Israel, and Egypt accused Britain of instigating the latest Israeli attacks.

A cease fire ordered by the U.N. truce supervision team was in effect along the border and no new shooting has been reported since the Wednesday morning clashes between the Israeli army and the Arab Legion of Jordan.

THE SITUATION remained tense and it was understood the U.N. Security Council would take up the border dispute if there are further disturbances. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld warned both sides Wednesday they must end the border fighting that threatens war.

Postal Receipts Here Up $1500

Postal receipts for the last monthly period continued to show an increase over the same period in 1955, Palm Springs Postmaster Merritt Williams reported today.

Receipts for the past 28 days were $11,051, approximately $1,500 over the total of $9,484 in 1955.

Total for the year to date is $168,757, $15,599 ahead of the 1955 total of $153,158.

Each quarter during the year has shown approximately the same increase of $5,000.

Babe Didrikson, Famed Woman Athlete, Dies

BABE DIDRIKSON

GALVESTON, Tex. — Babe Didrikson Zaharias, the greatest woman athlete of modern times, died at 5:28 a.m. PDT today, ending a gallant three-year fight against cancer.

At the bedside of the 42-year-old Olympic champion and first lady of golf was her husband, former wrestler George Zaharias, and members of the immediate family, a sister and two brothers.

THE END was not unexpected for the famous woman athlete. Her doctors disclosed last Sunday that Mrs. Zaharias' condition was such that "the situation cannot continue much longer in view of the widespread dissemination of the malignant growth."

The Babe, confined to her bed in John Sealy Hospital since the day after her 42nd birthday last June 26, was put in an oxygen tent Monday night.

WEDNESDAY, George and the Babe's sister, Mrs. Lily Grimes of Beaumont, and her two brothers, Ole Didrikson of Beaumont and Louis of Newton, took turns at the bedside. Zaharias told the United Press early today he was prepared for his wife's death.

Funeral services will be held in Beaumont, Tex., where she grew up, at 4 p.m. Friday in Bethlehem Lutheran Church. The body will then be taken to Houston for cremation, after which a private family burial service will be held, probably in Beaumont.

Post Office Pens Show Honesty Of Villagers

Palm Springs residents are honest.

This was the report today of Postmaster Merritt Williams, who said that customers of the post office have not taken any of the new ball point pens since they were placed in use there about a month ago.

Other cities in the Southwest have been plagued with pen thefts, so much so that some of them are contemplating returning to the old scratchy pens and ink wells that had become synonymous with the post office.

But not so Palm Springs. "Our residents are honest," said Williams.

Ike Talked Into Active Vote Drive

But He Says He Won't Barnstorm Or Whistlestop

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said today that he has expanded his election campaign activities at the earnest request of Republican associates. But he said he still will not barnstorm or whistlestop.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference that when he originally spoke of making five or six major campaign speeches his plans for the campaign were not complete.

Since he blocked out his campaign plans in the early summer he said a lot of pressure has been brought to bear on him to expand his speaking program and he probably will make two or three additional major addresses.

Other news highlights of the President's news conference:

1. HE SHRUGGED off criticism by Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, that he is guilty of "consistent rejection of the positive responsibilities of leadership."

Mr. Eisenhower said the United States is filed with people who have been associated with him and he preferred to call on them for an answer to Stevenson rather than discussing his own qualifications.

2. HE SAID HE believes there is some hope in the Suez Canal crisis. He said that if the 18 nations making up the tentative Users Association get together on a proper set of rules, he believes Egypt will see that its best interests lay in the same direction.

3. HE SAID, in reply to a question, he has never been a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. This point was raised because Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Wednesday that he was an honorary member of the NAACP.

4. MR. EISENHOWER has renewed his invitation to Indian Prime Minister Nehru to visit this country. Nehru was scheduled originally to visit Mr. Eisenhower in June, but the President's intestinal surgery forced a postponement. Mr. Eisenhower said he believes Nehru will visit this country some time this year, but not very soon.

5. HE STOOD behind Nixon on the vice president's forecast of an eventual four-day work week. He said this could not be accomplished by fiat but that his administration will continue efforts to establish an economic climate in which the worker receives the maximum reward for his efforts.

6. HE BELIEVES that some system ought to be worked out for making public an accounting of money spent by congressmen on trips abroad. He sees no reason why these records should be kept secret as they are at present.

7. HE REGARDS Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson as one of the finest and most dedicated public servants he has ever known. He believes Benson is thoroughly acquainted with every phase of agriculture and is putting his whole heart into working for the best interests of farmers.

MR. EISENHOWER was asked why he felt it necessary to expand his campaign plans beyond his original announcement of "five or six" major addresses.

He grinned and said it was simply due to the volume of representations by his good friends; pleas for his appearance which could not be declined.

Tot Swallows Disinfectant Here

Tina Schilling, 18-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schilling, is a wiser youngster today.

She was rushed to Desert Hospital yesterday when her mother discovered that she had taken a bottle of disinfectant and had swallowed some of the contents.

A stomach pump was first believed necessary but it was discovered that the youngster had only swallowed a minor portion of the disinfectant and vomiting provided the treatment needed. Tina returned home happier and wiser.

DIRECTORS OF THE NEW Federal Savings and Loan Association in Palm Springs completed plans for the establishment of the association at a meeting yesterday. Discussing the plans

Egypt Calls U.S. Stand in Suez Economic War

CAIRO, Egypt — Egypt considers that the United States has issued an open declaration of economic warfare in the Suez dispute, semi-official sources said today.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser immediately began marshalling his economic forces to meet the challenge, the sources said.

THE DULLES statement as reported here said there was no necessity to use force in the canal dispute because economic pressure would eventually force Egypt to agree to a Suez settlement. This, semi-official sources declared, was "an open declaration of economic warfare against the Nasser regime."

NASSER MET his ministers in a five-hour session late Wednesday. Source said Egypt's economic policy dominated the discussions.

The sources said Egypt is quite prepared to meet any economic sanctions that the West may seek to impose. They said such sanctions, especially from the United States, would be painful but not disastrous.

Keeps Mummified Body 18 Months Trying to Raise Her From Dead

WASHINGTON — Zita Louise Baker prayed and cared for the mummified body of her elderly roommate for 18 months trying to raise her from the dead.

Complaints from neighbors ended her long vigil Wednesday. The 59-year-old spinster and her 71-year-old roommate Lisle Thomas, had been friends for a quarter century. They had lived together with more than a dozen cats in the same apartment since 1947.

Then one cold February night last year Miss Thomas, who had a medical record of a heart ailment, died.

"I CAME INTO the room one night," Miss Baker told police. "I leaned over and kissed her on the forehead. She was cold." She said ever since then she had

Final Steps Taken To Establish New Savings-Loan Institution Here

Final steps in the establishment of a Federal Savings and Loan association in Palm Springs were taken by the organizers at a meeting of the group yesterday.

Permission to organize a Federal association here was granted in July by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, following a public hearing in Washington last November.

The organizers, all local residents, are: Charles Farrell, owner of the Racquet Club; William Tackett, owner of The Center; Charles Becker, president of Franklin Life Insurance Co.; Percy Whiteside, publisher of The Villager Magazine; Mrs. Robert Howard co-owner of Howard Manor;

County May Ask U.S. Reparations For Forest Fire

SAN BERNARDINO — County officials indicated today that the federal government might be asked for reparations for damages caused by a 10,500-acre fire which denuded valuable watershed land in the San Bernardino Mountains.

County Supervisor James W. Gerrard said, "It would appear that the federal government has some responsibility."

HOWEVER, HE added, "We need a complete inventory of damage before any question of liability can be raised."

The giant fire started last Friday when an Air Force jet crashed in the San Creek area after the pilot had parachuted to safety.

FOREST SUPERVISOR Jim Jarvis said 800 firefighters would patrol the 30 miles of fire line around the blackened area for the next two or three days.

A new fire, believed started by an arsonist, burned over four acres of heavy timber near Lake Arrowhead Wednesday but crews reached the blaze before it could spread.

Frank Bogert, manager of El Mirador Hotel; and Oliver Jaynes, editor of the Desert Sun and chairman of the organization committee for the new association.

OBJECTIVES OF the association which will be known as First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Palm Springs, will be to promote thrift by providing a safe and convenient method for people to save and invest their money; and to provide for the sound and economical financing of homes.

Loans may be made within a radius of 50 miles of Palm Springs in amounts up to 80 per cent of appraised value with monthly payments for up to 20 years. Operations of the institution will be governed by the rules and regulations of the Federal Savings and Loan System of which the association will be a member.

Savings accounts will be insured up to $10,000 and 4 per cent interest a year will be paid on savings, Jaynes said. Pledges for opening of savings accounts when the charter is granted are now being taken by the organizers. Both savings account holders and borrowers will become shareholders.

Arrangements were being made this week to establish offices for the association on Palm Canyon Drive in the building completed this summer by Irwin Schuman next to Thrifty Drug Stores. Plans call for the installation of the latest type fixtures and equipment for a savings and loan institution, Jaynes said.

The organizers expect to receive the charter and complete arrangements for the association's home in time for an opening by the latter part of November, it was stated.

British Explode Atomic Device In Australia

MARALINVA, Australia — Britain today exploded a mounted atomic device in the first of a series of nuclear tests.

The explosion, postponed for days because of adverse weather conditions, sent a radioactive cloud mushrooming into the sky over the testing ground.

Planes cautiously shadowed the cloud which was expected to move over the mainland for at least two days.

An estimated 250 observers from Britain, the United States, Australia and Canada witnessed the test.

Plane Speed Estimated At 1900 MPH

Pilot Is Killed; No Reason Given for Sudden Crash

EDWARDS AIRFORCE BASE, Calif. — The world's fastest experimental airplane crashed today within two minutes after it was released from the belly of its B-50 mother plane, the Air Force announced. The pilot was killed.

The pilot, Capt. Milburn G. Apt, 32, Buffalo, Kansas, was on a routine flight when the accident occurred at 9 a.m., a spokesman said.

The plane, dubbed the X-2, crashed at the northeast corner of the base reservation and the pilot's body was found in the cockpit of the aircraft. Cause of the crash was not immediately known.

The X-2, a stainless steel high altitude research plane, recently was flown at an altitude of 126,000 feet. On a separate flight it reached a speed of 1900 miles per hour.

The rocket propelled plane was designed to investigate the so called "thermal barrier." That refers to the enormous heat generated on the skin of a high speed airplane by air friction.

Lt. Col. Frank (Pete) Everest, flew the plane 1900 miles per hour last summer. Captain Iven C. Kincheloe flew the X-2 on its ascent to 126,000 feet. Neither performance figure has been confirmed officially.

Apt's wife and two girls, aged 2 and 5, live on the base. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oley G. Apts, live in Buffalo.

Hurricane Clips Virginia, Floods Norwalk Section

NORFOLK, Va. — Hurricane Flossy sideswiped the Virginia coast today, flooding some areas of downtown Norfolk with six feet of water.

Radio Station WCMS said the flood was bad as the deluge of last April when a northeastern storm grounded two freighters and caused the burning of a waterfront pier.

A flood peak of 74 inches of water was reported at 4:15 a.m. EDT.

Flossy's winds were reported blowing over the city at a steady 35 to 50 miles per hour.

The weather bureau reported the center of the hurricane as halted by a dome of cold high pressure off the North Carolina coast. Storm winds rushed northward as far as southern New England.

Torrential rains were reported in the northeastern North Carolina area and heavy rains lashed Washington early today.

TEENERS OVERRUN 100 POLICE IN WILD PRESLEY HOMECOMING

TUPELO, Miss. (AP)—Screaming teenagers overran 100 police and National Guardsmen Wednesday night in a frenzy touched off by a homecoming appearance of rock 'n' roll singer Elvis Presley.

Pandemonium swept over teenagers forming about half a crowd of 12,500 that overflowed specially built bleachers to see Tupelo's most famous former resident.

The youngsters stampeded from the bleachers, forced a cordon of officers back against the bandstand and literally crawled over the uniformed men to reach their idol.

"I can't sing with this going on," Presley wailed into his microphone while the stage teemed with intruders making lunges for his clothing, and with officers pulling them away as fast as they arrived.

Presley halted his singing to beg his young fans to return to their seats and they obeyed. Soon the audience was relatively quiet and Presley finished his show unscathed.

But during a matinee a few hours earlier a teenaged girl grabbed several buttons off his blue velvet shirt when Presley snakehipped too close to the edge of the stage.

Truman Regime Offered Most Aid to Peron

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration offered to lend the Argentine government or Argentine business $62.5 million while dictator Juan D. Peron was in power, but none of the money was actually received.

The Truman administration agreed to loans totaling more than $130 million for Peron's regime or for Argentine firms. Of this total, about $101,700,000 was actually drawn by the Argentine government.

THESE FACTS were ascertained from records of the Export-Import Bank, which handles such loans for the U.S. government, after the question of U.S. financial assistance to Peron became an issue in the presidential campaign.

Attention was focused on the question when Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson charged in Miami that the Eisenhower administration had appeased Peron. He said the President's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, had assumed special responsibility for U.S. Latin American policy at the time.

STEVENSON CHARGED that after Mr. Eisenhower took office, the government "made loans to Peron and Peron, in turn, piled up balances of more than $100 million in Switzerland" for his own use.

Secretary Dulles reply Wednesday was: "The Peron government received loan agreements from our prior Truman administration totaling upwards of $100 million."

Stevenson Raps Eisenhower As Weak President

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson worked today to build up a picture of President Eisenhower as a weak president with a limited concept of his duties.

The Democratic presidential nominee plugged away at that theme Wednesday night at a rally at which he was introduced by his former foe, former President Truman.

STEVENSON SAID that in calling for "a strong presidency, I am not talking about the President's health or any personal aspect of the situation in Washington."

"I am talking about the limited concept of the presidency that Mr. Eisenhower has announced publicly and followed in practice," he said. "And I am not 'attacking' the President, as the newspaper headlines so often say."

"I AM TALKING, rather, about what has seemed to me his philosophical attitude toward the office and his consistent selection of the positive responsibilities of leadership—a selection that has not last fall, but in January, 1953," he said.

Stevenson planned to write speeches this morning and then motor across the Kaw River to talk at the Wendell County court house in Kansas City, Kan. Afterward his plane was scheduled to leave for St. Louis, Mo., where he speaks tonight.

Two in Balloon Reach Altitude Of Eight Miles

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A veteran balloon pilot and a comparative amateur today sifted through a maze of scientific data obtained from their record-setting climb nearly eight miles into space in an open-gondola balloon flight.

"We were really out of this world," said Keith Lang, when he landed Wednesday. Lang, who had been aloft only once before, was backed up by the balloon's pilot, Harold Froelich, a veteran of more than 20 flights, none of which, however, exceeded 20,000 feet.

Froelich, a geo-hysicist research scientist, and Lang, a project engineer, soared slightly more than 42,000 feet in a giant General Mills, Inc., "skyhook" balloon in one of a series of tests for the U. S. Navy.

The balloon, launched secretly from the University of Minnesota airport, landed near Cresco, Iowa, 150 miles south of here, after six hours and 15 minutes in the air.

Mr. Lacy and Miss Bettie Lacy will return to their Palm Springs home in October.

34 Saved From Ship in Typhoon

TOKYO (AP)—A U.S. Coast Guard boat today rescued 34 crewmen from a British ship tossed on a coral reef by a typhoon that struck a glancing blow to Tokyo.

The 10,000-ton British vessel Bedford Earl was blown onto the reef by typhoon Harriet one mile off the east coast of Japan. The storm, the second largest of the season, raged on toward Tokyo with driving rains and heavy winds, but skirted over the city with comparatively little damage.

"Satellite in the Sky"

all joking aside

...the families in 80% of America's homes struggle along with wiring that's not much better. Folks who pride themselves on "modern living" put up with the inconveniences and hazards of out-dated electrical systems that have become totally inadequate to their needs.

They have to get along without many of the new appliances they want because they haven't enough HOUSEPOWER to handle even their present load.

They put up with endless blackouts, lack of outlets, flickering lights, poor TV, slow-heating appliances that mean overheated wires.

Yet it's all so unnecessary. For modern wiring is moderate in cost, can be installed without muss or fuss. And often, just a little more wiring is needed.

What's more, you can "wire-on-time," with easy, monthly payments.

You can't afford to be without Modern Wiring...

THE TIME HAS COME TO SPEAK BLUNTLY

ABOUT THE PROPOSED TV TRANSLATOR SCHEME NOW BEING PROMOTED IN PALM SPRINGS.

Let there be no doubt. The undersigned is an interested party. We pioneered in creating a needed television service for the people of Palm Springs when no one else was willing to undertake it. You know how much this has meant to all of you . . . the residents, the hotel guests, and the City itself. Because of enormous technical difficulties due to local physical and climatic conditions, it took a substantial investment. Nevertheless, we are proud of the job that has been done and have every confidence that the good sense of the people of Palm Springs and the merit of our system will prevail.

Until now we have avoided any public comment on the proposed translator system, but we can no longer remain silent. The ad published last week by the translator people now impels us to make public the other side of the translator story that has not been told. This affects the ENTIRE community — you, Mr. Home Owner . . . you, Mr. Civic Leader . . . you, Mr. Hotel Owner . . . you, the TV viewer . . . and certainly you, the 2200 subscribers to the existing Palm Springs Community TV system.

WE NOW SPEAK UP ON BEHALF OF ALL OF YOU.

What is the Translator Proposal?

Palm Springs Translator Station, Inc., was formed as a "non-profit" corporation. It proposes to build five translators each of which would receive one channel from Los Angeles, convert the signal to frequencies in the high Ultra High Frequency (UHF) band and rebroadcast it to Palm Springs. The corporation plans to finance the installation and maintenance of the system by voluntary contributions — although anyone can get the signal whether he pays for it or not. In its Articles of Incorporation, Palm Springs Translator Station, Inc., expresses the hope that the taxpayers of the City of Palm Springs will take over the project at some future time.

HOW DO THESE HIGH ULTRA HIGH FREQUENCIES AFFECT THE VIEWER IN PALM SPRINGS?

1. The Federal Communications Commission, in authorizing the use of translators a couple of months ago, stated that "these were intended for 'SMALL ISOLATED COMMUNITIES AND SPARSELY SETTLED AREAS' beyond the range of stations now on the air." In order to provide television for such areas, the FCC allocated the upper fourteen UHF channels (70 to 83) for translators. It is a well known fact that these translator channels are the poorest for TV transmission and reception. What's more, the FCC recently reduced its operating standards for translators. Apparently, the Commission felt that where television was not available at all, the poorest part of the band—with lowered standards—was better than none. This does not apply to Palm Springs where one of the best cable systems in the country has been in operation for about four years.

2. There has been absolutely no experience in the practical operation of a translator in any community in America for a sufficient period of time to answer all the questions about it. In view of this, the translator proponents cannot reasonably guarantee satisfactory pictures throughout the year without extensive testing and research. Whatever experience there has been by standard UHF stations in the high frequencies certainly does not justify the advertised claim of the "lower standard Palm Springs translators to a 'beautiful picture.'" As a matter of fact, the FCC, itself, has consistently recognized the technical difficulties in operating the high UHF channels.

3. On the basis of competent engineering opinion, this proposed translator system applied to the peculiar conditions of Palm Springs cannot be expected to provide its viewers with pictures of quality and dependability comparable to what your community system can deliver.

For example:

... There is good reason to believe that, in Palm Springs, the signal will pass over the city, hit the mountains and bounce back. If this happens, it could cause multiple images to appear on the TV screen: the original signal, and other reflections, or "ghosts."

... Under the best circumstances, at these extremely high frequencies, buildings and other objects interfere with reception. Reflections from any objects—large or small—present a serious problem in UHF, particularly in the higher bands.

... At these frequencies, normal drift of receiving equipment becomes another obstacle to satisfactory reception. One of its effects is that signals fade, causing pictures to become "snowy" and roll.

4. We cannot emphasize too strongly that this translator system is unproved and untried in actual operation. Apart from transmission problems, there are grave doubts about the adequacy of existing receiving equipment—the converter which must be attached to any standard set. As a matter of fact, the FCC recognized the inadequacy of existing equipment for high UHF channels when it approved a petition of a UHF station to change from Channel 74 (up where the Palm Springs translators intend to operate) down to Channel 19. The FCC stated in its decision:

"While on a long-range basis we believe that there should be no distinction among the UHF channels, we do recognize, as a practical matter, that there currently is a SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCE in light of equipment problems with respect to the HIGHER UHF CHANNELS. The manufacturers have developed satisfactory equipment for the lower portion of the UHF band; however . . . THEY HAVE NOT AS YET SOLVED ALL THE PROBLEMS WITH RESPECT TO THE HIGHER UHF CHANNELS."

These are problems which will have to be met by the Palm Springs translators.

5. It is reasonable engineering judgment to anticipate that the majority of viewers in Palm Springs will require roof-top antennas. Some of these may have to be quite high. Statements made that "rabbit ear" antennas in the home would be sufficient are not justified without having field tests all over the city.

To the individual viewer, roof antennas mean . . . (1) The cost of a special UHF antenna and its installation. (2) The potential cost of antenna and property damage from frequent high winds in Palm Springs.

To everyone in Palm Springs, the roof antennas mean that Palm Springs—beautiful oasis of the desert—may well become a sea of antennas disfiguring the City.

What Will the Extra Equipment to Receive a Translator Signal Cost the Individual Set Owner?

As stated above, each set will require a UHF converter and most sets a special UHF antenna. A reasonable estimate of the cost of the necessary conversion from a standard set to a specially adapted set, including converter and antenna, will run between $35 to about $125 per set. For this, there is no assurance that many areas in the City will receive other than a weak signal, "ghosting" fading and "snow."

How Many Channels Will be Available During The First Year of Operation Over This Proposed System?

constant maintenance and provide continued improvement. During the past year, this company spent more than $30,000 in technical improvements in the system which will be completed during the next couple of weeks.

5. The present system is now available to about 85% of all the homes and hotels in Palm Springs and is rapidly expanding to 100% saturation.

6. Palm Springs Community Television Corporation has had an annual payroll in the City of Palm Springs of over

According to an article published in the "Desert Sun," September 15, 1956, the President of P. S. Translator S. Inc., was quoted as stating that only one channel would be used until it was "definitely ascertained if enough persons interested in television support the corporation." This means that you are asked to contribute to this corporation and buy special equipment to receive only ONE channel—with the very real risk that the whole system will never get off the ground and you will lose all your investment.

How Will The Project be Financed?

According to the FCC petitions filed by P. S. Translator S. Inc., the cost of installing each channel is estimated at $5,000 and the cost of operation for the first year at $10,000. Thus, if the system were to put 5 channels into operation, it would represent an investment of about $75,000 for the first year with no responsible basis for financing it now and in the future. Even if the cost should turn out to be less, no one has yet offered a sound explanation as to how this proposal is to be financed—other than on a nebulous voluntary basis—unless the City takes over the project.

Should the City Take Over the Translator Service?

1. The City of Palm Springs, having granted a franchise to Palm Springs Community Television Corporation and thereby encouraging its investment of a substantial sum of money, would not want to engage in questionable conduct as a community in taking over a competing enterprise.

2. It is likely that a taxpayer's suit would be filed to enjoin the City from engaging in an activity about which there is adverse legal opinion.

3. In the statement referred to above in the "Desert Sun," the President of the corporation stated that he anticipated that he would be permitted to recover the cost of the installation from the City. The cost of the installation plus annual operating charges, plus all the "headaches" that the City will be assuming in taking over an unproved project would seem to be ample reason why the City of Palm Springs will not embark upon this venture.

4. In addition, why should every taxpayer in Palm Springs—whether he wants TV or not—be saddled with the burden of paying for the translators and maintaining them?

If the City Does Not Take This Over and There is no Dependable Financial Support, What Guarantee is There of Permanence of the System?

The answer is simple. There is none.

In proposing this proposition without providing a sound financial basis for it, the proponents of the translator project are in a position to do a great disservice to many people in the city who may be misled into spending money on this program. Without the profit motive, there is no certain basis for the continued support of this system. The voluntary basis cannot be relied upon to continue. Why should anyone contribute to the service when he can get it free?

As Against All the Uncertainties of the Translator System, We Feel We Owe It To The Public To State the Facts About the Existing System.

1. The Palm Springs Community Television Corporation system has been in operation for four years.

2. The present system has brought more than 1,000,000 hours of programs to viewers in Palm Springs.

3. The present system provides five channels to every subscriber.

4. Palm Springs Community Television Corporation maintains a year-round service crew of fifteen technicians and engineers to answer your calls, to keep the system in

A WORD OF CAUTION

If you read a real estate ad which offered you a rental of $10 a month for a house that you knew to be worth $150 a month, you would probably get mighty curious. As a sensible person, you would want to check the house and the reason for the offer . . . Does the roof leak? Is there inside plumbing? And how about the termites? . . .

We suggest that you exercise the same caution with regard to the translator service . . . Get the facts.

After examining the translator system, we are more confident than ever that our original decision to build a cable system was sound for the City of Palm Springs and for our subscribers. It is the only practical way that television can be maintained at a high level of quality and service for the people of Palm Springs.

A MORE UNPLEASANT SUBJECT

Last week we were complaining about flies and what a menace they are to outdoor living for which Palm Springs is so famous. We pointed out that we didn't like to bring up such an unpleasant subject but said that something should be done about it. Some action has already been taken by the City Council to relieve the situation—and the rest is up to the citizens themselves. We felt quite relieved to get this off our chest.

Then, a day or two later, a reader came into the office and admonished us in these words: "You are complaining about fertilizer and flies—have you seen Section 14 lately?" We ended up the conversation by agreeing to take a look. Our indignant informer took us on the grand tour.

This is an even more unpleasant subject but we might as well get our dirty linen off the line before more of our winter residents and visitors arrive. This is a situation about which something must be done at all cost.

Conditions which now prevail in part of this section are almost beyond belief. We could hardly believe our eyes. The mess is indescribable. It would be a mistake to say any more. Every resident of the community should see for themselves—as revolting as it is. It would be hard to find anything much worse in any city in the land. Slums? This is even worse.

There is simply no excuse for the citizens of Palm Springs to permit this situation to exist any longer. It is hard to keep from telling the awful truth for fear our citizens will not be sufficiently shocked by what they have read so far.

Something Must Be Done

No matter what the cause or cost—this deplorable condition must be removed. It is more important than a new city hall, city parks, paved streets, off-street parking, city beautification, sewers and flood control all put together. At least THIS SHOULD COME FIRST!

This is the most unpleasant subject which we have ever had to bring to light in The Desert Sun. But to sit by and not do anything about it would be doing a disservice to the whole community. And don't let anybody tell you that there is nothing that can be done about it.

This section lies within the city limits of Palm Springs. Although it is part of the Reservation, ordinances can be enforced there as well as any other section of the city. Of course something can be done about it—something MUST BE DONE. No community problem like this is without solution; it is simply a matter of arousing the citizens to the point where they recognize its importance and find a solution.

If you don't already know what we are talking about—go and take a look for yourself.

This is not only an unpleasant subject, it is an unhealthy one—literally. And we hope we don't have to write about it again!

DREAM CAR
(Detroit News)

The auto industry's reaction to the safety car designed at Buffalo is described as one of cautious interest. The emphasis no doubt was on the qualifying "cautious," as well it might be. The best of safety devices will save no lives if the public will not buy the car equipped with them.

To the amateur eye the seating arrangement of the Buffalo design looks acceptable enough, and even cozily attractive. Still one can foresee that the single backward-riding rear seat would be seldom occupied.

The safety advantage of the accordion type doors is something for engineers to judge. Improved ease of access has drawn pleased comment, but are present models so hard to get in or out of?

The most startling innovation, and in fact the only one entirely novel, is the substitution of steering levers for the wheel. Here an obvious gain for driver safety collides head-on with the factor of public acceptance. Motorists are pretty well habituated to the wheel.

One thing to be noted about the design is that it did achieve wide publication. In the judgment of at least newspaper editors the public is interested in motor vehicle safety, or perhaps motor vehicle novelty. Another thing to note is that this publicity accrued to the benefit of a commercial engineering laboratory and a sponsoring insurance company. We could wish that the auto industry itself had been the sponsor and beneficiary. Proliferation of "dream" cars, the industry evidently should not have let authorship of this dream car fall to other hands.

Lighter Side of Washington

WASHINGTON—What's new in Washington:

Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic hopeful for the presidency, already has traveled 15,000 miles since his nomination. He started out in January to get the nod and traveled 50,000 miles ahead of time.

Right now, he makes several stops a day, whistle mostly, and in the dark of night he works on speeches for the next day, en route. Can't make the same speech every day, with TV and all. Sometimes it adds up to a 23-hour day.

You may have heard of the GOP elephant cookie cutter. Also recipes for Macie and some other Republican ladies. But have you heard of the jelly cookie recipe suggested by Mrs. Sinclair Weeks wife of the secretary of commerce?

It involves 1 cup butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, two teaspoons vanilla. Cream butter, add sugar, gradually, then combine with other ingredients. Roll dough and cut with cookie cutter, shape of an elephant, of course. Make deep indentation for elephant's eye and fill with currant jelly. Bake in 350 degree oven until light brown. If it turns out looking like a donkey you're supposed to garbage it.

The machinist magazine, under the heading of "Wanted Recipes" says:

"From Mrs. Robert J. Archer, Tacoma, Wash., who would dearly like to have a cookie recipe using caraway seeds." Address the "Machinist" and not me.

Lt. Col. Hal D. Stewart, new head of the community relations branch of the Pentagon, fresh home from Germany, bought a $35,000 home in McLean, Va. The colonel didn't mind paying that kind of dough. What he did mind was the fact that the first time he went in to take a bath, he discovered the former tenant had swiped the hook of the bathroom door, commonly reserved for a man's bathrobe. Something that could be bought in most dime stores for a dime.

A fishing magazine I receive would like us to know that it has, at last, a real fish story. A Marie Fish, 28, and a James Bass, 31, are about to get married in Angier, N.C. The magazine is going to finance the honeymoon. The publisher offered them "a whole of a time." The happy couple could do nothing but accept. Both Fish and Bass are "fishermen."

According to some hat people from Texas, the best-hatted man in the annual hat makers poll is President Eisenhower. He won over John Wayne, Frank Sinatra, Stan Musial, of the St. Louis Cardinals, and even Red Skelton, who had no regard for expensive hats except to crunch 'em in his act.

Seriously, folks 38 million American kids are running back to school. And I would like to repeat the words of one of our automotive organizations:

"Our duty, as alert and interested citizens, is to remember: 'School's open, drive carefully.'"

PALM SPRINGS was ahead of Beverly Hills by almost $2 million, topped Santa Barbara by $3 million, Redlands by $4 million, Alhambra, Ventura and many others were far behind the Village.

Indio was listed in the tabulation with a total of $1.3 million. But no Palm Springs.

PERHAPS the Chamber of Commerce should get after the "stringers" for the Los Angeles papers from around here. For I have been informed that the country correspondents who write for the L.A. newspapers, furnish those figures.

Might be a good thing if they'd send in the building totals along with stories about bodies by the roadside, jewel thefts and snakes. Probably they don't consider progress news. But it is good publicity.

I THINK we should be on that list each month.

We would be near the top. Investors and people seeking a healthy, growing community, would become more aware of us.

But she'll be very wet Saturday when she waterskis on an NBC Aqua Soectacle from a Brooklyn TV studio . . . "live," too.

"Why do you want to change and become dry?" I asked her.

"You can't tread water," she said, "in show business."

Doing this piece about a couple of people you may or may not have met. If you haven't, the minute you do you will, like most everybody does, fall in love with them instantly.

They are Oscar and Gurley Gilbert, about the best examples of the Scandinavian race this side of Sweden or even Minneapolis. They operate the Town and Country Restaurant in The Center, which by the way, is in the heart of downtown Palm Springs.

On Sept. 27, Oscar and Gurley will be scouting about that place of their's eagerly but most graciously, waiting on the first patrons of the new 1956-57 Winter season. Of course, there are hired people to help, but Oscar and Gurley will be there the moment the door opens the first day and they'll be there the last day and all of the days in between, because as far as these two are concerned the Town and Country is their home. So, when you enter, to them you are no different than an invited guest to the house in which they live.

OSCAR AND I have had our little tiffs but about nothing else than who was going to reduce first. And we both love food. So the bantering between us will continue all season just as it has these many years in the past. Must warn you though, if you have never been in the Town and Country, Oscar or Gurley will, when you do, appear behind you, at your side or in front of you several times during luncheon or dinner. They want to be sure that everything down to the last drop of water in the glass is just filled to the right level.

Gurley — she is something too with a personality that will warm the cockles of your heart. Never have seen this lovely lady without a smile on her face. And when she greets you she simply beams all over. Her face lights up like the sun coming over a cloudy horizon.

THE RESTAURANT they operate to a great degree reflects the quiet, self assurance of this husband and wife team. The room is restful and calming. The only noise you might hear on occasion may come from my throat as I sit at the bar in the Scandia Room sipping on a Swedish Martini. If you have never tried one of these—you who take a drink on occasion—it's an all-enfolding concoction. Instead of gin as the basic ingredient aquavit is used, the national drink of all Scandinavian people.

On opening day Oscar and Gurley have planned something special for patrons. If you tell them: "Yes, I hoost come from Sweden or Meenee-a-polis" either one may hand you an extra Swedish herring from the smorgasbord table or a ladle full of Swedish meatballs. But watch those Swedish Martinis though.

TALKED TO BOB Bonesteel who arrived in town late Sunday night, rolling into town as he usually does during those hours between two days. He said that he went out early in the morning to pick up the Chicago Tribune on the lawn of his home. There he was assailed by a mixture of the Stock Yard breeze and the cold damp air off of Lake Michigan.

Shivering in his longwoolen underwear and pajamas (understand he never takes the former off) he returned inside just before the icicles formed. That was enough for Bonesteel. It was right then and there, plus a moderate suggestion from one E. R. F., which decided Bob to grab himself an armful of airplanes and head for Palm Springs and El Mirador Hotel.

He'll be here until that hostelry opens on or about Oct. 10. And I know that the only person who'll get him back will be a preemphatory order to return from a lovely gal by the name of Mary. She happens to be his very good wife.

PHIL ZANVILLE at his Zanville's the other night had his chest in full extension. There was a happy contended look on his face too. Reason: the lounge and dining room were filled to capacity.

Blue Room in the Chi Chi packed Tuesday and Wednesday night. The nightly Starlite Room show had been moved into that room. Reason: Workmen were pouring the new floor for the new Starlite Room. The intimacy of the Blue Room imparted a feeling of being enraptured with the entertainers. They were called back again and again for encores.

George Roberts of the Desert Inn stopped me to inquire if The Desert Sun had received the first publicity breaks on the opening of that famed hostelry. This brought to mind that just around the corner the whole town will be a-blooming again.

OPENING ANYWHERE from Oct. 10 to 15 will be El Mirador, The Desert Inn, Don the Beachcombers and preceding these by a few days or perhaps a week may be the New Dunes. If it doesn't open soon that Ruby will be counted out with fatigue, the nervous kind. He has been at the place watching every detail of the enlargement and the new kitchen equipment coming in until the end of the day. Until this guy near exhaustion. "When you gonna open, Ruby?" is a question asked of him dozens of times a day.

Next week is National Newspaper Week. Was asked to invite an out-of-town newspaperman to speak before the Kiwanis Club at the Billmore Oct. 2. I went right to the top and asked Warden Woolard, managing editor of the giant Los Angeles Examiner to come down. He accepted. Bill Ford, president of Kiwanis, was thrilled and asked that I publicly announce that all who would like to hear this great newspaperman talk to make reservations at the Billmore for lunch Tuesday, Oct. 2.

We seldom have a man of Woolard's caliber down here to address a gathering.

Suez Canal, the Golden Goose

JOHN COSTELLO

In The St. Louis Globe-Democrat RECENTLY some 100 salty sea captain who served as pilots on the Suez Canal packed up their bags and went home. This may go down in history as a walk-out of the world's highest-priced hired help.

Suez Canal pilots are the pampered darlings of a well-heeled firm that has paid off like a Las Vegas jackpot ever since 1875. These hired hands of the Compagnie Universelle du Canal Maritime de Suez make about $12,000 a year, straight-time.

PLUS THAT, they drag down a bonus that came to about $6,000 last year. With that $18,000 a year go some damn fringed benefits. For instance, free medical care, subsidized food and housing. Also, extra family allowances, if the pilot had taken the plunge into matrimony.

Even a baseball umpire could not beat the Suez. The Suez pilot works a six-hour shift but, like a fireman, he gets every other day off.

The Suez Canal Co. gives him 36 to 72 days annual leave. Then every couple of years, it sends him home to his native land for rest and recuperation. It pays for the round-trip ticket.

THIS IS nice work if you can get it. The catch is that the Suez Canal Co. has set up some pretty high standards. It won't take on an apprentice pilot unless he has:

1) Already qualified as a captain of an ocean-going ship.

2) Served 10 years on ship-board in blue water.

He must also know port from starboard—and other basic nautical terms—in 13 languages. They include Arabic, Dutch, English, Greek and Russian.

out. They could make good on those promissory notes, if they were issued. For although Egypt may have the company's canal, the directors have its Paris bank accounts.

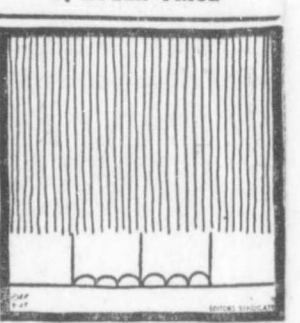

THE PILOTS aren't the only ones who have cleaned up on the Suez Canal. Investors made a killing, too. In 1858, the company put 400,000 shares of stock on sale at 500 francs each.

Thrifty Frenchmen took the bulk of the offering, some 207,111 shares. The Khedive of Egypt bought almost half the stock, a total of 176,602 shares.

The canal opened 11 years later in 1869.

Mitch Sitkoff, of "Mitch's Charcoal-Broiler," spent the summer at The Capistrano Beachcomber's Club in Capistrano Beach, returning last week to open his well-known steak house for the coming season.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Colwell (O.K. Rubber Welders) returned after three days at Catalina Island. Their holiday was cut short due to the arrival of their granddaughter, Pamela, born to their daughter and son-in-law Norma and Thomas Rouse of Puente.

Bill Hoppe, owner of Hoppe's Nursery, will be spending this month moving next door into the building formerly occupied by Peter Pan Market, that will provide more spacious quarters for the Cut Flower Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Ferris, with daughters Susan and Jane, and Minerva Holmes, all of Los Angeles, were recent guests of Bob and Amelia Irvine. Mrs. Irvine is owner of the new Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio on Broadway.

Last Friday in Indio, Judge Hilton McCabe granted an annulment to Mrs. Eleanor McNamara from Byron McKen. They separated a few months ago after less than a year of marriage. Mrs. McNamara and her son, Dennis, who won a summer scholarship to the Idyllwild Music Camp, spent the summer between Idyllwild and the Coast with intermittent visits to their home on "G" Street.

"Margo, Custom Tailoring For Men and Women," formerly of Seward and Ketchikan, Alaska, has established her shop at the rear of the Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio at 716 Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Potter have returned after enjoying three weeks of fishing in the Klamath River in Northern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCormick are now at home after a 5,000 mile, three month trailer trip through Oregon and Washington. En route they visited their many friends and relatives. They enjoyed trout and salmon fishing in the Puget Sound waters and the mountain streams near Bend, Ore. Mr. McCormick is associated with the Clark Realty Company.

Bill Evans, co-owner with Henry McKelvey, of the new 90 space deluxe "Desert Hills Trailer Park," now under construction off Highway 111 (back of Topp's Drive-In), reports that work is progressing rapidly. They hope to start taking reservations before the end of October.

Charlie Wilson (Charlie Can Fix It) left Saturday to spend the weekend at Big Bear. He was routed through Cajon Pass, Lucerne and up the East entrance to Big Bear, passing many cars fleeing the fire area. It took him four hours to make the trip that under normal circumstances, takes less than two hours.

Hawaiian Trip Extends Into 3 Weeks, 1 Planned

Fern Scott (Scott's Desert Wear) who left Aug. 16 on the Chamber of Commerce non-stop flight to the Hawaiian Islands, returned last week to the mainland, and after visiting with friends in the vicinity of Oakland, is back in Cathedral City.

The flight schedule booked only one week in Honolulu but Mrs. Scott said she was so charmed by the hospitality and friendliness of the islanders, that she remained for three, sightseeing, shopping for the Cathedral City store and visiting other islands.

Booked at the Hawaiian Village Hotel, built by Kaiser whom she saw frequently about the premises, Mrs. Scott took a two-day trip to the Island of Hawaii and a one-day trip to the Island of Kauai, or Garden Isle, which she described as unbelievably beautiful with orchids, Hibiscus and Anthurium growing wild in the yards of the most humble huts.

The shops of course, said Mrs. Scott, proved her main attraction and she bought a large stock of gay Hawaiian prints with appropriate hand-carved ivory, Polynesian and Siamese jewelry for the Cathedral City store. She expects the stock to arrive sometime next month.

First Postman Returns to Visit

Ken Guild, first mail man of the Palm Springs area, returned to the scene of his former route last weekend, as guest with his wife and daughter, Laura Lee, of the Ed Smiths in their Palm Springs home.

Guild, now a hardwood floor contractor in Burbank, commented on the changed appearance of the area, then explained how he happened to be chosen for the position which he held for nine years. "I had one indispensable requisite," he said "as clerk at the time, in the Palm Springs grocery. I knew the name and chimney piece of every resident in town."

He added that in 1940 the homes were without numbers and the streets, although they had been given names, were still unposted.

Specialist Says Tooth Decay Afflicts High Percentage Of Children Under Six

By MARGUERITE CLARK
"If today's youngsters are to grow into healthy adults, we must prevent tooth decay." This warning comes from Dr. Benjamin Spock, the famous arbiter of child health in thousands of American homes.

When Dr. Spock speaks, the nation's mothers, to a woman, listen and try to heed his words. Now the big (6 feet, 4 inches), kindly pediatrician-psychiatrist, whose book, The Common Sense Book of Baby and Child Care, has sold more than six million copies since 1946, has turned, for a time, from feeding formulas and temper tantrums to a common sense program of child dental care.

"Excellent basic progress has been made in nutrition, sanitation, immunization and other fields to make up for inherited deficiencies and to give special protection against disease," Dr. Spock points out. "Vaccination, pasteurization of milk, water chlorination, food inspection, gamma globulin, and more recently the Salk vaccine, are milestones in child health. The greatest gap we have to close is in preventing tooth decay. And public ignorance of these facts is serious."

To set mothers and fathers right, Dr. Spock has made time in his heavy schedule of lectures (he heads the Department of Child Development at Western Reserve University, Cleveland), books, articles and weekly TV appearances, to interpret the best in modern thinking about child dental health, and to underscore it with his own wide experience.

As a starter, the ever-practical Dr. Spock has lined up impressive facts and figures. Next to the common cold, tooth decay is the most prevalent disease in the nation. At least 80 per cent of all young children are afflicted with tooth decay in their first six years.

Within one year after the first permanent teeth come through, 40 per cent are decayed, missing or filled.

Children from six to 12 have a backlog of 285 million unfilled cavities, and 33 million new cavities are developed each year.

At 14, when children have their permanent teeth, at least 50 per cent have had at least one tooth pulled.

At 16, seven teeth are missing, decayed or filled.

"Poor dental health affects nutrition," Dr. Spock emphasizes. "It profoundly influences many aspects of the child's physical and mental health."

Far too few mothers and fathers are aware of the tremendous forward strides that have been made in preventing tooth decay through the use of fluorides—in drinking water, applied locally to children's teeth by the dentist, and in toothpaste.

In Dr. Spock's opinion, water fluoridation is "the safest, most effective and cheapest way" to protect children's teeth. "Ten years of successful use of fluoridation by 28 million people in 1,150 cities and towns has proved its efficiency and absolute safety," he added. "Findings show that child dental decay is reduced by as much as 65 per cent by proper fluoride addition (one part fluoride to one million parts water) to the city drinking water."

When young children (birth to six years) drink water containing fluoride, the permanent teeth which are being formed in their gums pick up fluoride through the blood stream. Enamel formed in this way is 60-65 per cent less susceptible to decay, and the benefit is lifelong.

Yet, says Dr. Spock, water fluoridation is not well enough understood by American parents whose children would benefit from it. When considered for the first time in a community, mothers and fathers want to be assured that it is safe. Fears of fluoridation are "groundless," Dr. Spock assures his vast parental following. "No valid evidence has been offered to support the claim of dangerous effects of fluoridation." The proper amount of fluoride added to drinking water is perfectly safe, it does not mottle the teeth, and it does not harm the child's health. In low fluoride communities, the value of applying fluoride directly to the teeth by a dentist has also been tested and approved. Teeth treated in this way have 50 to 60 per cent fewer cavities than the untreated. Four applications, one at the age of three, when the baby teeth are out, another at seven, when the first permanent teeth are coming in, and two more at 11 and 13 are recommended.

Another, and still easier way of applying fluoride to the teeth is through the use of a toothpaste containing fluoride compounds, but Dr. Muhler warns "No toothpaste, fluoride or otherwise, stops all dental decay. Besides a good dentifrice, children must eat a well-balanced diet, make regular visits to a good dentist, and practice good dental habits, particularly brushing their teeth four times a day."

"Two years is a good time to buy the baby a toothbrush and let him go to it," Dr. Spock advises mothers. "Naturally, he will not be very efficient at first, but his parents can help him tactfully."

Olman on First Cruise of Black Sea Since the War

When the Norwegian cruise ship that time was closed to travel by Meteor sails today for its first cruise of the Black Sea since the war, a Villager, George Olman of the Olman Travel Service, will be aboard. He left Palm Springs Friday, traveling by Swissair Super Swiss flight to Zurich and Venice, to join the cruise.

Highlighting the 6000-mile voyage will be visits to three seaports, the historic city of Odesa in the southern Ukraine; Yalta, seaside resort on the Crimean peninsula, well-known as the site of the "Big Three Conference" and the site of the former Czar's Winter Palace; and Sochi, famous Russian health resort. From the latter city, the party will make an excursion into the Caucasian Mountains. Returning, the Meteor will sail through the Bosphorus and Dardanelles, through the Aegean Sea, visiting the Greek Islands, Athens, and the Corinth Canal. Visits will also be made to Dubrovnik, the Dalmatian coast of Yugoslavia, Istanbul, Tunis and Lisbon, with the trip terminating in Holland in late October.

Last year Olman visited Istanbul and from the Bosphorus looked out to the Black Sea, which at a wall of mines. Now, one year later, the mines have been removed and the Black Sea is again open to travelers.

Janice Olman and Keiran Paschall of the Olman Travel Service, returned last week from a six week survey tour by motor through Southern Europe. They report that although this was the heaviest tourist year to date, the countries are rapidly building hotels and enlarging facilities to handle the increased volume of tourists. Also they found the season is lengthening, with many travelers arriving there in April and May and others lingering to enjoy the beautiful fall weather in September and October.

Slip covers come cleaner in the wash if the loose dirt is removed from them with a vacuum cleaner before they are dunked into suds.

Home Again

Mrs. Jean Sapper of 988 North Patencio Road, is home again after spending eight weeks in Highland Springs and two weeks with her son and family Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sapper of Fortuna.

Visiting Mrs. Sapper for a few days is Mrs. Esther Morrison of Los Angeles.

Soup and Sandwich

For the school child who comes home for lunch, a nourishing soup and hot sandwich will hit the spot. To make a quick and hearty sandwich, spread a piece of toast with a chopped ripe olive and tuna filling and top with a slice of processed American cheese. Place under the broiler until the filling is bubbling hot.

A drinking straw in a youngster's lunch box, along with a vacuum-type bottle cuts down chances of accidental spilling. The child can drink directly from the bottle rather than pour his beverage.

MOBILE HOME PARKS

By VIRGINIA DAVIS

SARAH: It has been said by many that Palm Springs has the most beautiful trailer parks in America — and perhaps in the world. Sahara has been much publicized in periodicals and trailer magazines for its beauty in architectural design, its luxurious mobile homes with ramadas and cabanas, and its colorful and scenic background.

Upon entering this Park, which covers 33 acres, with 199 trailer spaces, it has the appearance of being more like a country club than a mobile home park. Each trailer has its own individual setting and each as individual as the owners who live in them.

Sahara has a high-class clientele, mostly retired business and professional men and their wives (they do not take children), some of whom have formerly lived in one of the lush Palm Springs hotels, but who prefer the freedom of their own home and the fellowship of those of like interests.

They also find this mode of living offers opportunities for one to have or to create a hobby, and is an outlet to express their creativity and artistry in landscaping and flower arrangements, as is evidenced throughout the Park in the many colorful patios and lawns.

SPACIOUSNESS AND luxurious living is expressed throughout the Park in all the buildings. As you enter the large office you are greeted by the Managers, Bill and Clara Veith. Often the owners may be there, who will drive you through the Park and show the large club house 45 by 65 feet in length, where the many parties and dances are held during the season; self-enclosed TV room, air-conditioned and open at all hours with a seating capacity of 250; the turquoise blue heated and filtered pool circled with a 60 by 65 foot patio, which is often the setting for fashion shows, buffet suppers or swim parties.

Sahara has its own general store and modern laundry rooms. Each trailer space has its own connections for telephone, television, (which is brought into Palm Springs by cable), natural gas, electricity, water and sewage, fire hydrant, and all utilities are underground.

A VERY IMPORTANT part of Sahara is the "Woman's Club," which with their officers and appointed committees have a great deal to do with the planning of the Park's entertainment programs for the season. And with the co-operation of the management the residents of Sahara have what they want in the way of holiday parties, dances, bridge parties, etc., as it is the desire of the management to fulfill the wishes of the residents. The entertainment will include also bridge tournaments, fashion shows, lecture slides shuffleboard, tournament on the eight shuffleboard courts, and community dinners.

An Open House Party and Dance is already scheduled for Oct. 9. This will be a "welcome home" dance honoring the early arrivals. Popular Frank Kenyon will be the caller—with square, modern and pattern dancing. The regular dances are Tuesday and Friday

Thrifty Drug 'Beauty' Contest To End in 3 Days

Local residents were today reminded by Thrifty Drug Store officials that only three days remain to enter the "Accent on Beauty" contest and qualify to win the fabulous French Renault.

An international favorite, the Renault combines sports car roadability with 51 mile per gallon economy. Its four doors make it the ideal family sedan, since four adults can get in and out easily and ride comfortably.

A bonus prize of a full year's supply of gasoline goes to the Renault winner if his or her entry blank is accompanied by a sales slip from any Renault product.

With these two valuable prizes in a single simple contest, it pays to visit the Palm Springs Thrifty Drug Store and participate in the "Accent on Beauty" promotion as often as you can. There is no limit on the number of entries from each contestant, and nothing to write but name and address, according to Thrifty management.

LaQuinta Air Strip Decision Delayed to Oct. 16

The county planning commissioners listened for some time Tuesday afternoon to the proponents and opponents on the question of granting a permit for a private airplane landing strip at La Quinta and ended in postponing a decision until Oct. 16.

Applicant for the permit is the La Quinta Desert Club whose case was presented by L. S. Adams, president.

Proponents of the landing strip argued that it would meet with CAA approval and that it would increase the value of surrounding property.

Opponents said the landing strip as planned would be so situated as to be a hazard and that because of prevailing winds it would not meet with CAA approval. They said it would decrease property values.

Pilots, airline representatives, and aircraft manufacturing officials spoke both for and against the landing strip location, adding to the confusion.

Marrying Justice

Treasure Hunts Hit New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The old-fashioned treasure hunt, revived as a promotion stunt, had many clue-following New Yorkers poking into odd corners of the big city in their off hours today.

A local radio station is in the 11th week of a $1,000 a week treasure hunt giveaway contest that has sent listeners scurrying to such places as zoos, Grand Central Station, the Battery, and Coney Island seeking the hidden treasury.

A mattress firm has started a hunt for a $100,000 certificate. Clues, in the form of an eight-line jingle, are obtained from retailers who handle the product.

A disc jockey got into the act by hiring a detective agency to join the $100,000 search and promising his listeners he would let them know where to look if the detectives got hot on the trail.

Curbs, Gutters Eliminated in Bermuda Estates

The first unit of the proposed 1600-acre subdivision of Bermuda Estates, formerly known as the Carter Record of Survey, was approved by the county planning commission Tuesday. The unit is composed of 70 acres to be subdivided into 160 lots. It is located approximately two miles northwest of Indio on 42nd Avenue.

The curb and gutter requirement was waived by the commission. Avenue 42 is to have a center strip of 20 feet with an 18-foot one way road on either side. Streets inside the subdivision area will have 20-foot pavements.

Converse Tract Map Approved

A tentative map for the proposed Converse Tract near Cathedral City, 660 feet east of Date Palm Drive and 660 feet south of 35th Avenue, was approved by the county planning commission Tuesday. They waived the curb and gutter requirement.

The subdivision is composed of five acres to be divided into 20 lots.

Termites on March

ISLAND OF ELBA, Italy (AP)—Officials mapped battle plans today to destroy an army attacking the villa where Napoleon Bonaparte lived when he was exiled here in 1814.

Prof. Antonio Melis, superintendent of historic property of Florence, said he was prepared to exterminate an army of termites which is devouring the furniture of the Napoleonic museum.

Girl, 10, Frozen to Car by Power, Rescued

SAN PEDRO (AP)—A 10-year-old girl who was "frozen" to an automobile by a fallen 4,800-volt line was rescued by a fireman wearing rubber gloves.

The girl, Helen Fratis, brushed against the car as firemen and police tried to hold back a crowd of children near the electrified automobile. Fireman James Triffon saw the girl's plight, slipped on a pair of rubber gloves and pulled her free. She was taken to the Harbor General Hospital where her condition was described as fair.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP)—To the sports world, Babe Didrikson Zaharias always will stand as one of the greatest fighters as well as the most superb all-around athlete of all time.

The Babe could do anything. All she had to do was make up her mind that she wanted to do it. She never knew there was such a word as "quit."

IT ALL STARTED for the Babe on a nippy February day in 1930 when, a slender 15-year-old in a home-made dress, she took the sleeper from Beaumont to Dallas to play for an insurance company's basketball team.

For three years in a row young Babe was selected on the All-America basketball team. That third year she talked the insurance company into starting a girl's track team—and then won the 1932 national team championship all by herself.

IN THE OLYMPICS which followed, she set world records in the javelin and 80-meter hurdles and placed second in the high jump.

But golf was her greatest sport. Love and the Babe roared to the top of the golf world by winning the National Amateur in 1946 and the British Amateur in 1947. Turning professional again in 1948, Babe twice captured the women's National Open and was rated as the greatest of the women players when disaster struck. It was cancer, and, in April of 1953, she underwent surgery.

SHE CAME THROUGH, battled her way back to the golf course and the following year won her third U.S. Open golf championship. It was one of the great sporting comebacks of all time.

Yet in the summer of 1955, once again he Babe had to go under the knife. And still once again she apparently fought her way back.

Then, a few weeks ago, Babe went back to the hospital. For a while the reports were encouraging. But then the strength which always before had been sufficient began to fail.

That very first time she became ill, the Babe said:

"I'll just leave everything in the hands of God."

Bowling Activity Gets Under Way

Bowling activity for the new season got under way Tuesday night at Palm Springs Bowling Academy when six teams started the Franchise League. They will bowl every Tuesday night in a round robin series.

Active in the new league are teams from the Wagon Wheel, Mayfair, Village Pool, Bank of America, Koffee Kup and Chester Real Estate.

In an organization meeting Tuesday night, Frank Danigel was elected president of the Franchise League, Harry Voelker, vice president and Don Lewis, secretary.

Other leagues are being organized and the bowling alleys promise to be busy every night of the week.

Kerr Praised for Stand in PCC

BERKELEY (AP)—The Academic Senate of the University of California has adopted a resolution commending Chancellor Clark Kerr and the university's athletic representatives in "handling the athletic situation on this campus."

The Academic Senate, composed of UC faculty members, also endorsed "the sense and wording" of a letter written by 12 UC faculty members on July 16. The letter praised the efforts of President Robert Gordon Sproul.

Both actions were taken at a meeting Wednesday. They related to the Pacific Coast Conference scandal that resulted in penalties against Southern California, UCLA, Washington and California.

Hill to Throw 'T' At Oregon Staters

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Jess Hill has indicated that the Southern California Trojans will use the T-formation more than the single-wing against Oregon State.

The Trojans devoted most of their drill period Wednesday to plays designed to stop Oregon's star wingback, Sam Wesley. Coach Hill said fullback Don Kasten, guard Dean Neal, halfback Doug Kranz and center Ken Antle would not play Friday night because of injuries.

Haney Says 'No Play Off'

Braves Lead By Length in Stretch Drive

Milwaukee Manager In First Real Show of Confidence Today

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Fred Haney says the Braves will clinch by Sunday, Walt Alton says the Dodgers will battle their way into a playoff and Casey Stengel says "c'mon anybody," because his Yankees are restless and eager to get the World Series started.

All clubs in the majors had an off-day today and no one was enjoying it more than Haney, whose Braves boast a full game lead with only three left to play.

"We're going to win it by Sunday," beamed the little Milwaukee skipper. "We're not going to need any playoff."

IT WAS HANEY's first real show of confidence in a week and the big factor behind that optimism was Philadelphia's 7-3 victory over Brooklyn at Ebbets Field Wednesday. Even with the setback, though, there was no all-out attitude by Alton.

"We'll win three from the Pirates, the Braves will lose one to the Cards and the season will open here all over again next Monday," Alton declared.

Robin Roberts, who racked up his 19th victory, was the one who did the Dodgers dirt Wednesday even though he was tagged for a pair of homers by Duke Snider. Roberts limited Brooklyn to five hits and the Phils jumped in front to stay when a second-inning error by left-fielder Sandy Amoroso paved the way for three runs off loser Don Newcombe.

WHEN THE SHOOTING resumes Thursday, Haney will send either Bob Buhl 18-8 or Lew Burdette 18-10 against Tom Poholsky 9-14 of the Cardinals in St. Louis. Haney appeared to be leaning toward Buhl, especially since Burdette hasn't won a game since Sept. 3.

Roger Craig 12-11 already has been named as Alton's choice against Bob Friend 17-16 of the Pirates. Friend defeated the Dodgers, 6-5, in a game that knocked the Brooks out of first place last MONDAY BUT Alton insisted, "he doesn't worry us."

While Haney and Alton were laying last-ditch pennant plans, Stengel and his Yankees were hoping they would hurry and get it over with so that they, themselves, don't lose their edge standing around during a possible National League pennant playoff.

STENGEL'S STARTER for the opening game of the World Series, southpaw Whitey Ford, looked sharp even though he dropped a 1-0 decision to the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday. Baltimore's lone run came in the third on singles by Tito Francona and Bob Newman and Ford's wild pitch. Rookie Charlie Beamon, pitching in his first big league game, tossed a four-hitter at the Yankees.

The president's reply from the White House to Mr. Shearer read:

"I appreciate very much indeed the congratulations of the members of the Palm Springs Desert Seniors upon my nomination for the office I now hold, and for your good wishes that we may achieve the goal of peace that is so vital.

"Won't you please give my warm regard and greetings to my good friends and acquaintances in your association?"

Jackson Touted As Challenger Despite Dispute

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson, the rock-and-roll flailer from Far Rockaway, N.Y., may be the 1957 heavyweight challenger despite the dispute over his repeat victory against big Bob Baker Wednesday night.

Before promoter Jim Norris flew to New York this morning, he said, "Jackson is very much in the picture as a prospective challenger next year."

The lanky, 25-year-old "Hurricane" won a split 12-round decision over Baker of Pittsburgh, before 12,641 at chilly Forbes Field in their return bout Wednesday night.

But a poll of 13 ringside writers favored Baker, 9-4; many of the fans were thunder struck, and William "Dusty" Bettor, Baker's manager, declared, "I'm stunned. Bob won all by himself. No, I won't make any official protest. But I'm demanding another fight with Jackson."

It was a bruising fight—much better than their first one at Madison Square Garden last Feb. 3, when Jackson won a majority vote, in which two ring officials favored him but the other called it a draw.

Brea Favored Over Indians Friday Night

RCL Season to Get Under Way Here Week from Friday

By LINDSAY NIELSON

Coach Claire Ballagh's 1957 Indian football squad will close its pre-league season schedule on the local gridiron tomorrow night, starting at 8 o'clock, against a highly-favored Brea-Olinda team.

A week from tomorrow night, they set off the 1956 Riverside County League season against San Jacinto High School, also under the arcs here.

Brea is rated a leading contender for the title in its league and will take the field tomorrow night the choice by a wide margin.

It has been several years since the local high school has staged a successful practice game schedule but in previous years they have been able to get rolling during the league season to turn in a creditable record, local grid fans point out.

With green material to work with and experience the big need of his charges, Coach Ballagh will use as many of his boys as possible tomorrow night to give them the feel of competition under fire.

Spirit of the Redmen is high and Ballagh is not pessimistic looking ahead at the 1957 RCL scramble.

McCoy Resigns Olympic Position

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Babe McCoy, key witness in a state's boxing investigation last spring, resigned Wednesday as matchmaker of Olympic Auditorium because of failing health and recently established rules of the state Athletic Commission.

The cigar-smoking matchmaker didn't blame the boxing probe for his resignation after 15 years of matchmaking at the Olympic but said regulations adopted since the hearings made it almost impossible for him to carry out his duties. He also declared, "My personal physician advised me that a complete rest was essential."

Dodgers Lonely In Hour of Need

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)—Brooklyn's once far-famed "red hot" baseball fans seem to have deserted the Dodgers in the hour of their greatest need.

Virtually the whole country was supposed to be following every pitch of the Dodgers' last two games—and yet a total of only 23,051 of the faithful turned out in two days at Ebbets Field. There were 15,204 Tuesday night and 7,847 for Wednesday game.

'New Face' Hunt For Joan of Arc Proves Difficult

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD — "In all the United States only a handful of young unknowns have the talent to play Joan of Arc" is the reluctant conclusion of producer-director Otto Preminger.

The maker of "Man with the Golden Arm" and "Carmen Jones" elected to find a "new face" for Joan of Arc in the movie version of George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan," also starring Richard Widmark.

His plan is impressive: He's flying 30,000 miles in 40 days to 20 cities of the United States, Canada and Europe to interview 3,000 young hopefuls weeded out of 20,000 applicants. But sitting in the darkness of a Los Angeles theater to audition girls from this area, Preminger admitted he hasn't seen as many potential Joans as he expected.

"I HAVE SEEN some girls I have great confidence will come through in a screen test, but I miscalculated the number I could find to test," Preminger whispered while we watched girl after girl read the same speech from the Shaw play. "I thought I could find at least 50. But I won't test that many."

"At first I was discouraged. Then I realized that if looking for an unknown were so easy, a star would be easier to find. I'm looking for a girl like Jennifer Jones when she played 'Song of Bernadette' or Audrey Hepburn when she did 'Gigi.' They both were unknowns."

Watching an audition is an unhappy task. On the stage were girls of all descriptions fat, thin, blonde, brunette, wearing pedal pushers or cocktail dresses, most playing Joan in their bare feet.

Preminger conducted his talent search by sending 5,000,000 entry blanks to movie theaters, drama schools and universities.

RABBI ISAAC E. BLOCH, right, has returned from his trip to Israel, where he conferred above with the Hon. Isaac Ben-Zvi, President of Israel.

Rabbi Isaac Bloch, Returned From Israel, to Resume Services Friday

Jewish religious services will be resumed under the auspices of the Jewish Community Council of Desert Hot Springs on Friday night. It was announced by Jack Furman, president.

Pending the erection of a building on the lot which has been acquired by the Council, services will be held at the Improvement Association Hall every Friday night at 8 p.m.

Rabbi Isaac E. Bloch, who has just returned from a tour of Israel and Europe, will conduct all services, and will report on various aspects of his visit to the Holy Land.

The Rabbi had a most exciting and eventful trip. He sailed from New York to Naples aboard the ill-fated S.S. Andrea Doria. From Rome, he flew to Israel, where he was the guest of his brother, an officer of the National Bank Leumi at Tel-Aviv.

AS A VETERAN of the Jewish Legion which served in Palestine under Lord Allenby in World War I, he was accorded many honors, including visits to the new campus of the Hebrew University, the Haifa Technion, the Weizman Institute of Science and Physics at Rehoboth, and a seat in the Distinguished Visitors Gallery at a session of the Knesset (Parliament).

The highlight in his visit was an audience with His Excellency, Isaac Ben-Zvi, President of Israel, lasting over 40 minutes, and the gift by the President of three autographed copies of recent government publications.

During his stay in the Holy Land, he participated in two practice alerts, one in Jerusalem, and one in Tel-Aviv, both of which impressed him with the excellent work of the Civil Defense Authorities. He also attended a performance by the London Festival Ballet, with the Israeli Symphony Orchestra, in a stadium at Ramat Gan, with some 20,000 wildly enthusiastic youngsters in the audience.

BEFORE RETURNING to California, Rabbi Bloch also visited

New York's Scientific Drunk Driving Law Threatened By Doctors' Worry Over Retaliation of Damage Suits

NEW YORK SCIENTIFIC 3 24 1 NEW YORK — This state's "scientific" drunk driving law was threatened today by widespread refusal of doctors to administer its blood test. The physicians' lawyers said the testing can get the doctors in more trouble than the drunks.

Frustrated state police, who have been forced to continue unscientific breath-sniffing and chalk line tests in the absence of blood, are drafting a new law they hope will eliminate the legal objection. It was learned.

The problem, according to attorneys for the Medical Society of the State of New York, is in the law itself which blandly contradicts itself in succeeding sentences as to the suspect's rights in refusing to submit to a test.

THIS LEAVES A doctor wide open for suit for assault or malpractice if he draws blood from an unwilling or befuddled subject, society counsel William F. Martin said.

The society is on record as eager to cooperate with the state. The doctors are asking for legal assurance that the state will defend them against possible suits and pay the damages if there are any. Such a law presently protects physicians serving without fee in city hospitals here and elsewhere.

Physicians' own insurance against malpractice suits does not apply under the drunk driving law, Martin said, because no proper doctor-patient relationship exists between the suspect and the test.
